IAPD Welcomes New Member Chemtrol, a brand of NIBCO

OVERLAND PARK, Kans. – The International Association of Plastics Distribution announces that Chemtrol, a brand of NIBCO, has joined the organization. Chemtrol is a manufacturer located in Charlestown, IN, USA.

"I am pleased to welcome Chemtrol as an IAPD member," said Susan E. Avery, CAE, IAPD Chief Executive Officer. "IAPD represents that plastics distribution supply chain and most importantly, champions the use of plastics in applications and the use of distribution as the way to market. Companies who are admitted to IAPD as full members of the association must evidence their commitment to the plastics distribution supply chain. The association will be their essential source for networking, training tools, education, information and insight. Through IAPD, they will have access to the thought leaders in the plastics distribution industry and a thriving Pipe, Valves and Fittings community. Two former IAPD Presidents are from high-profile PVF companies and are driving initiatives to enhance the value of membership to other PVF firms, including new education-related programs and webinars, as well as the existing regular coverage in The IAPD Magazine."
